Sebastopol City Council Meeting April 1, 2020 – Synopsis and Commentary

- All council members were present, at least physically.

Proclamations/Presentations:

- The full council proclaimed themselves to be the wisest collection of law makers since The Constitutional Convention. And as whereas that is indisputable, they will be so recognized and feted every April 1st in perpetuity and in other places too.

Public Comment (aka Open Mike):

- A speaker complained to the council about a buzzing in her ears and lambasted them for not doing something about it. She claimed it was brought on by constant buzz of sprockets generated by the incessant peloton of cyclists weaving around town in the Green Mile, all the while fearing the inevitable contact with an opening car door or maybe everything that comes with it.
- Another speaker not only encouraged the council to go back to two-way traffic on Main Street but also require all traffic in Sebastopol to drive on the left side of the road, which is more in keeping with efforts to keep all things politically pure here in the center of the universe.
- The EMF fobs, aerial spraying sect, and the government plotting platoon, spent way too much time castigating each other for spreading fake news, not believing in science and being a bunch a wackos. (Never thought we would see the day!)

Consent Calendar:

- The council, agreeing that Cittaslow was passé, will abandon it and transfer its $20,000 funding to SebastopolCitizens.org – in cold, hard cash and in brown unmarked bags. Financial oversight will be provided, for a small percentage, by cousin Zeke, who is beyond reproach – and usually beyond the long arm of the law.
- Evidently trying to demonstrate they aren't the elitist group that they sometimes appear to be, the council declared April the 10th Drive Your Out Of Tune Diesel Pickup To Work Today and will fund it at $2,000 just like the Bike To Work Day. Sleeveless T-Shirts are required.
- And in a stunning move, the council vowed to stop second-guessing the Planning Commission and Design Review Board for one full year and said it's now OK to shop at CVS.

Irregular Agenda Items:

- The city modified its sanctuary city resolution to exclude Nicolás Maduro, either of Cuba's the Castro brothers (dead or alive) but are still OK with Joaquin and Julián Castro as well as Joaquin Phoenix.

City Council Reports:

- Each council member gave only one oral report and each one lasted for less than three minutes,

A Parting Shot:

- Wadda town. Ya can't make this stuff up.

Elapsed Time: This nice lady passed out cookies at the meeting. They weren't that tasty but got better as the night went on. What is Ganja anyway? We all kinda lost track of time. Best council meeting yet, though.

You can't view this meeting but maybe some others at: <http://bit.ly/sebcctv>.

- Stay Home.
